

DECEMBER 2015

Welcome. We held the annual Womb Twin conference in Dublin the weekend of 17th and 18th October inclusive. It was small, but perfectly formed. We had two amazing speakers on Saturday James Sweetman and Julie Williams explaining all the gifts we have as womb twins and also the link with ancestral patterns and awareness is key. Olga did a healing session on Saturday also. On Sunday Olga facilitated art therapy when Lisa De Jong wrote a beautiful poem! We had the healing path ritual in the afternoon which was very powerful because when womb twins get together it is magical! Agi came all the way from Switzerland to attend. €600 was raised for Womb Twin after expenses all in all a great result. We sold some of Althea's books as well. We had a candle lighting ceremony for our twins as a closing ceremony - beautiful. Look forward to next year! Olga and Celeste.

Testimonial 2015 Conference

Back in London after the conference in Dublin last weekend, feeling rich, nourished, healed, refreshed and enthusiastic about what is still to come. Eight of us sharing the deepest part of our beings. Concerns, queries, sufferings but also knowledge, insights and strength. A series of therapy and healing sessions turn our darkness into beautiful rainbows and our solitude into an invaluable sense of wholeness. The rituals performed to honour our unborn siblings sacredly sealed the status of being twins and the resonance with each other. I felt very much at home. I am grateful to Althea for her work, thank Olga for hosting such a successful event and encourage anyone out there resonating with the matter to try the experience.

When you play hide and seek with yourself

Where do you hide your truth?

Does your sun hide behind the clouds

Or is it in the ocean

Or in a rabbit's burrow?

Hide not your laughter

Hide not your sorrows

Let hope be your spirit

And grief be your wisdom

Let joy be your food

Let peace be your rest

And let fear be your saviour

Let trust be your mirror

Let courage be your strength

And let all your tears

Form a river

That winds in paths you cannot see

Into the ocean where love hides

Let love be the light source of your life
